

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS
WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

YONKERS.

Surrogate Theodore H. Silkman held court in Yonkers yesterday, but adjourned at noon out of respect for the late Silas D. Gifford, ex-Surrogate of Westchester County, whose funeral took place in the afternoon.

The Exempt Firemen's Benevolent Association, has accepted an invitation from Protection Engine Company No. 1 to be the guests of that company on the day of the parade of the Yonkers Fire Department.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Andrews, whose wedding took place last week, gave a reception for their friends on Wednesday evening at their home in the Mill-Florence. During the evening the couple and their guests. On Saturday afternoon of this week the first of two matches between members of the Yonkers Tennis Club will be held on the courts of the Yonkers Club, on Parkside-ave. A team of four men will represent each club.

WEST CHESTER.

Brother Leontine, who for a number of years has had charge of the Catholic Rectory, has been transferred from that institution to be brother in charge of the Rectory until a new director is appointed.

NEW-JERSEY.

JERSEY CITY.

Judge Lippincott, of Jersey City, yesterday stated positively that he would not be a candidate for Governor under any circumstances. He also declined to say anything about the probable candidate of the Democratic party. He said he did not consider it proper for a Supreme Court Justice to take any part in politics.

John Kingston, who arrived in Jersey City last week from Indianapolis, on his way to England, and who was not known to the Berlyn on account of his condition, said yesterday on the Park, Poor-master Hewitt having found a young man who was willing to be Mr. Kingston's nurse in consideration of his passage being paid to England.

On behalf of George Holmes, secretary of the Rockaway and Hudson County Water Company, Charles C. Egan, commissioner, yesterday ordered writ of certiorari to review the action of the authorities in awarding a contract for a water supply to Jersey City to a higher bidder.

The rule was made returnable on Saturday. There are now three writs before the court, and Judge Lippincott said he would hear them on Saturday. He wished to hear them all on Saturday, in order to save time.

On the efforts of the parties in interest to shield themselves from the frauds alleged by the Grand Jury in the erection of the new City Hall in Jersey City, the commissioners, yesterday, ordered Architect Broome, Contractor Kierman and Inspector Tallman to appear before them on Friday and explain their action. Then the commissioners went into a war and each accused the other of trying to shield his favorite.

HOBOKEN.

The Baron P. d'Erlander, of a German banking house at Frankfurt, was before Recorder McDonald, of Hoboken, yesterday. He arrived here on Saturday, and has been at Meyer's Hotel. The Baron brought with him a valuable Florentine dog. The animal got into the street yesterday and fell into the hands of Poundkeeper Stanton. The Baron rescued the dog, and Stanton caused his arrest. He was fined $5. The Baron refused to talk about himself or his dog. Meyer corroborated his statement that he was the Baron d'Erlander, of Frankfurt.

NEWARK.

In the Vice-Chancellor's Court yesterday Gottfried C. Krueger asked to recover $25,000 which he had invested in the stock of the International Asbestos Mining and Manufacturing Company. He alleged that he had been misled by false representations. The company was organized in July, 1893, and it owned an asbestos mine at Delmonico, near Quebec. The mine was a failure. It is a ledge, and the company went into the hands of a receiver, who sold the property to its original owners.

The annual meeting of the 13th New-Jersey Volunteers was held in the Essex Lyceum yesterday. Joseph E. Crowell, of Paterson, presided. A dinner was given in the afternoon, and the evening address was made by the Rev. C. M. Harris, of Port Jervis, the chaplain. The Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, of Newark, and David R. Frazer, of Newark.

CHIEF BONNER'S LONG SERVICE.

FLORAL TRIBUTES ON THE THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS APPOINTMENT TO THE PRESENT SERVICE.

Many floral tributes were presented to Chief Hugh Bonner, of the Fire Department, yesterday on the occasion of the thirtieth anniversary of his appointment to the service. The clerks in the Fire Department, together with several fire chiefs, gave him an immense floral horseshoe, on which was worked, also in flowers, "September, 65-95" Other members of the Department gave him wreaths and other floral tributes. Chief Bonner was a member of the old Volunteer Fire Department, which he joined on June 16, 1865. On September 18, 1895, he was present at a fire at Jewell's warehouse at Grand and East River, which lasted for three days and nights. Mr. Bonner was asked to take charge of Engine Company No. 23, which was organized by the Commissioner of the New York Fire Department, and he took all his men with him. He continued to rise up to the top of the fire, and he was made Chief of the Fire Department.

Chief Clerk William P. Allen and Captain McAdam, of Hook and Ladder 15, made presentation speeches, to which Chief Bonner responded in an appropriate manner. President La Grange complimented him, and expressed the hope that he would remain Chief for a long time to come.

FOR THE HALF-BROTHERS' RACES.

It is arranged that the races between Arthur Brand's boat, Spruce IV, and C. J. Field's boat, the Ethelwynne, for the Seawanhauk International Challenge Cup, shall be sailed under conditions in effect as follows: The number of races has been limited to five, the cup to be taken by the winner of the majority. The races will be sailed on September 21 and continue on the 22nd and thereafter until concluded. The courses, six nautical miles long, to be sailed over twice, will be at the entrance of Coney Bay, with the starting line between Centre Island Buoy and the committee's steamboat. The start—no gun, with preparatory signal—will be made at noon. Each race must be finished within an hour, or be resailed. Postponed races will be sailed, if possible, on days succeeding postponement.

THE RESCUE TRAINING SCHOOL OPENS.

The Rescue Workers' Practical Training School of New-York, having connection with St. Bartholomew's Rescue Mission, is open to applicants desiring to enter the full class, which will be begun on October 15 and closed December 14. The school fits the students or "Rescue Volunteers" for practical rescue work in missions or as pastors' assistants to reach the non-church-going public, especially those who have fallen through drink and accompanying vices. Applications should be sent to Colonel Henry H. Hadley, superintendent of St. Bartholomew's Rescue Mission, No. 26 East Forty-second-street.
